Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Practical Book-Keeping and Arithmetic There is nothing that would seem to demand our attention more than penmanship; although many students not only leave our Primary Schools without even making a tolerable progress in penmanship, yet many also leave the College without being proficient enough to write a readable hand. In fact, we have often been forced to conclude to write an unreadable hand seemed to be desired, as it would be likely to hide any defects in orthography. Why or how this is, we do not pretend to solve; yet, when we remember that penmanship is the first and legal record among individuals, and also among nations, we are at a loss to account for the general yet indifferent interest manifested by the many. Our teachers must be at fault. Are they not, in some degree, responsible for the little advancement and interest manifested by the students? The teacher should show a lively interest to advance his pupils in penmanship, and render regular services in this part of his profession. By industry he can render...

This publication will never be straightforward to get going on looking at but really fun to see. This can be for all those who statte that there had not been a worth looking at. You wont really feel monotony at at any moment of your own time (that's what catalogs are for about should you request me).
