If there is a type of Christian life and work which can be legitimately distinguished by this name, then no doubt that type of life and work looks back to the Apostle Paul as, among the apostolic circle, a very special forerunner. It finds in his writings, and in his spirit, some of its most significant warrants and guides. Some may judge that it has misinterpreted or misused what it found. We will not now decide that question, nor debate it. Enough that the connection is real, whether or not it be accepted beforehand as legitimate. But another question arises. Most of what we know of Paul, we know from his writings, which we own to be part of Holy Scripture. His activity also, as a Christian, is the activity of a man inspired, guided by revelations and divine impulses, upheld by exceptional grace. Are...
